Riverview West River Dairy Meeting Highlights Community Engagement and Dialogue

Morris, MN — A public meeting hosted by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) on April 28, 2026 regarding Riverview, LLP’s proposed West River Dairy expansion brought together more than 400 community members, local stakeholders, and area farmers for an evening of questions and conversation, with a high level of engagement and broad support expressed throughout the discussion.

The event provided an opportunity for community members to learn more about the project, ask questions, and share perspectives.

“We appreciate the strong turnout and the constructive, thoughtful conversation throughout the evening,” said Brady Janzen, Partner at Riverview. “It is encouraging to hear from so many people who care about the future of agriculture in our region.”

Riverview has hosted open houses and offers tours of its farms to provide additional opportunities for community members to learn more, ask questions, and engage directly with the team.

“As a neighbor of West River Dairy, I see this as a positive for the community,” said Lucas Koehl, a local grower who attended the meeting. “It brings more opportunity and activity locally, which is why there’s a lot of support for it. Riverview has been part of this community for more than 30 years and provides a dependable market for local farmers.”

Riverview works with farmers and partners across the Upper Midwest, contributing to local economies and supporting agricultural production in the region.
